The Apeiron office building is in the sought-out location of the Karlín Quarter in Prague, just several steps away from the Metro (Line B).

It was constructed in 2000 according to the designs of architect Václav Aulický, who made himself known by designing the controversial Žižkov Television Tower. In 2019, the building underwent extensive reconstruction work to meet the modern requisites of office space.

The leasable area equals 12,300 m<sup>2</sup> and spreads out on a total of eight storeys. Thanks to the variability of the interiors, tenants can choose offices precisely according to their individual needs.

- 1 minute from the tram stop
- 12 minutes from Florenc Metro Station (Line C)

The great advantage of the location of the Karlín Quarter in Prague is its excellent accessibility by all types of transport - by car, by public transport, or by bicycle thanks to Karlín's connection to the network of Prague cycle paths.

Křižíkova Metro Station is in direct proximity to the building, just as is the tram stop of the same name. It is possible to walk to the Florenc bus terminal and Metro station within 12 minutes.

The environs of the building are remarkable also for perfect civic amenities. Karlín is a popular quarter with a rich offer of restaurants, cafés, and shops. The nearby park by the church of Sts Cyril and Methodius or Vítkov Hill offer plenty of space for well-deserved rest after work.

Responsibly and Sustainably

Apeiron Office Centre is a modern office building, in which we continuously strive to increase the comfort of our tenants. We responsibly select innovative technologies and their suppliers, and the offer of services is just as key for us. One of the things that we consider when evaluating offers is the approach of our suppliers to sustainability and to responsible management.

We are interested in the location, and we try to contribute to its overall prosperity and to bettering its surroundings. Similarly, we also give opportunities to charity organisations that have the opportunity of presenting themselves in our premises.

Aside from standard lease agreements, we also offer our future and current tenants the option of concluding a green lease.
